In this case, the concerned individual shall execute an Income Payee’s Sworn Declaration of gross receipts/sales (Annex “B-2”) that shall be submitted to the lone payor. The payee’s sworn declaration shall be submitted to the lone income payor of income before the initial payment of income or before January 15 of each year, whichever is applicable. The income payor/withholding agent shall in turn execute its own Income Payor/Withholding Agent’s Sworn Declaration (Annex “C”) stating the number of payees who shall not be subjected to withholding taxes and have duly submitted their income payees’ sworn declarations and copies of COR. Together with the income payor/withholding agent’s sworn declaration is the list of payees, who shall not be subjected to withholding tax, which shall be submitted by the income payor/withholding agent to the concerned BIR office on or before the last day of January of each year or on the fifteenth (15th) day of the following month when a new income recipient submitted the payee’s sworn declaration to the lone income payor/withholding agent.

The income payor/withholding agent’s sworn declaration (Annex “C”) shall be filed in two (2) copies with the concerned LTS/RR/RDO office where the income payor/withholding agent is registered and shall be distributed as follows:

- (1) Original copy for the BIR; and
- (2) Duplicate copy for lone payor/withholding agent.

The duly received income payor/withholding agent’s sworn declaration including the required list shall serve as proof that the income payments made are not subject to withholding tax.

In the event that the individual payee’s cumulative gross receipts in a year exceed ₱250,000, the income payor/withholding agent shall withhold the prescribed withholding tax based on the amount in excess of ₱250,000, despite the prior submission of the individual income payee’s sworn declaration. On the other hand, if the individual income payee failed to submit an income payee’s sworn declaration to the lone income payor/withholding agent, the income payment shall be subject to the applicable withholding tax even though in a taxable year the income payment is ₱250,000 and below.

For individual payees, the income payor/withholding agent shall withhold the prescribed withholding tax rate. In case there are two rates prescribed, the higher rate shall apply if:

(1) the payee failed to provide the income payor/withholding agent of the required declaration; or (2) the income payment exceeds P3M, despite receiving the sworn declaration from the income payee.

For non-individual payees, the income payor/withholding agent shall withhold the prescribed withholding tax rate. In case there are two rates prescribed, the higher rate shall apply if: (1) the payee failed to provide the income payor/withholding agent of the required declaration; or (2) the income payment exceeds P720,000, despite receiving the sworn declaration from the income payee.

Illustration 1: Ms. Tina supplies special cupcakes on a regular basis to RPSV Supermarket, a top withholding agent pursuant to Section 2.57.2 (I) of these regulations. Prior to 2018, her annual sales to RPSV Supermarket never exceeded ₱250,000. She only bakes cupcakes upon order. RPSV Supermarket is her lone payor of income; thus, she executed the sworn declaration of gross receipts stating that her gross expected receipts shall not exceed ₱250,000 for the year from RPSV Supermarket. However, in the latter part of 2018, RPSV Supermarket noted that its purchase of cupcakes shall exceed ₱250,000. As expected, in 2018 the total purchase of cupcakes by RPSV Supermarket from Ms. Tina amounted to ₱300,000.

Computation:

In this case, RPSV Supermarket shall withhold the amount of ₱500, computed as follows:

Gross Receipts	₱ 300,000.00
Less: Amount not subject to withholding tax	250,000.00
Income subject to withholding tax	₱ 50,000.00
Multiply by: EWT rate	1%
Amount of withholding tax	₱ 500.00

* RPSV Supermarket is included as “Top Withholding Agent”, thus, the rate of income tax withholding is 1% for the payments made to Ms. Tina, the supplier of goods.

Illustration 2: Mr. Marvin was hired as a courier by G.O.D. Collection Services, Inc., under a Contract for Service for one (1) year, with payment on the basis of the number of letters/notices delivered. In the past years, Mr. Marvin’s gross receipts from the said company never exceeded ₱250,000. In 2018, his gross receipts amounted to ₱230,000.

Computation:

In this case, G.O.D. Collection Services Inc. shall withhold the amount of ₱4,600, computed as follows:

Gross Receipts	₱ 230,000.00
Less: Amount not subject to withholding tax	0.00
Income subject to withholding tax	₱ 230,000.00
Multiply by: EWT rate	2%
Amount of withholding tax	₱ 4,600.00

* The withholding tax rate applicable in this case is 2%, since Mr. Marvin is a supplier of services considered as service contractor.

* However, no withholding shall be made if Mr. Marvin executed a payee's sworn declaration in accordance with the format (Annex "B-2") provided under these regulations, and the same has been received by G.O.D. Collection Services Inc. (lone payor/withholding agent) and processed in accordance with prescribed policy."

Computation:

The income tax to be withheld shall be computed as follows -

Tax to be withheld	₱ 0.00

* Mr. Wil submitted to Brgy. Brgy. MRU, a Local Government Unit (LGU), may also withhold business tax depending on the income tax regime selected by Mr. Wil as indicated in his sworn declaration."

SECTION. 5. Section 2.58 of RR No. 2-98, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

“SECTION 2.58. Returns and Payment of Taxes Withheld at Source.

- (A) Manner, Venue and Time of Filing of Withholding Tax Returns and Payment of Taxes Withheld at Source - Taxpayers mandated to electronically file and pay shall use the BIR’s electronic system, while those not mandated has the option to either use the said electronic system, or file with the Authorized Agent Banks (AABs) under the jurisdiction of the Revenue District Office where they are registered. Withholding agents located at municipalities where there is no AAB, the returns shall be filed with the Revenue Collection Officer assigned in the said municipality. The filing of the withholding tax returns (BIR Form No. 1601EQ for creditable withholding tax and Form Nos. 1602 for final tax on interest on bank deposits, 1603 for final tax withheld on fringe benefits, and 1601FQ for all other final withholding taxes) and payment of the taxes withheld at source shall be made not later than the last day of the month following the close of the quarter during which the withholding was made.

For this purpose, the quarter shall follow the calendar quarter, e.g., for taxes withheld during the quarter ending March 31, the same shall be remitted by the withholding agent on or before April 30. The return filed shall be accompanied by the Quarterly Alphabetical List of Payees (QAP), reflecting the name of income payees, Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), the amount of income paid segregated per month with total for the quarter (all income payments prescribed as subject to withholding tax under these regulations, whether actually subjected to withholding tax or not subjected due to exemption), and the total amount of taxes withheld, if any.

Considering that taxes withheld by the withholding agents are held in trust for the government and its availability is an imperious necessity to ensure sufficient cash inflow to the National Treasury, withholding agents shall file BIR Monthly Remittance Form (BIR Form No. 0619E and/or 0619F) every tenth (10th) day of the following month when the withholding is made, regardless of the amount withheld. For withholding agents using EFPS facility, the due date is on the fifteenth (15th) day of the following month. Withholding agents with zero remittance are still required to use and file the same form.

In the case of sale of shares of stocks not traded thru a local stock exchange and sale of real property considered as capital asset, the filing and payment of the tax due thereon shall be made within thirty (30) days after the sale or disposition using BIR Form No. 1707 and 1706, respectively. Provided, however, that upon request of the payee, the payor must furnish such statement, simultaneously with the income payment.

(C) *Annual Information Return and Annual Alphabetical List of Payees for income tax withheld at source – The withholding agent is required to file with the concerned office of the LTS/RR/RDO where the withholding agent is registered, the following:

2. Annual Information Return on Final Income Taxes Withheld (BIR Form 1604F) including the corresponding Annual Alphabetical List of Payees – On or before January 31 of the following year in which payments were made.”

SECTION 6. Section 2.78.1 of RR No. 2-98, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

“SECTION 2.78.1. Withholding of Income Tax on Compensation Income. -

(A) Compensation Income Defined. - xxx

(b) Monetized value of vacation and sick leave credits paid to government officials and employees;

xxx      xxx      xxx

(B) Exemption from withholding tax on compensation. - The following income payments are exempted from the requirement of withholding tax on compensation but may be subject to income tax depending on the nature/sources of income earned by the individual recipient.

xxx      xxx      xxx

(11) Thirteenth month pay and other benefits. –

(a) Thirteenth month pay equivalent to the mandatory one (1) month basic salary of official and employees of the government (whether national or local), including government-owned or controlled corporations, and/or private offices received after the twelfth month pay; and

(b) Other benefits such as Christmas bonus, productivity incentives, loyalty award, gift in cash or in kind, and other benefits of similar nature actually received by officials and employees of both government and private offices, including the Additional Compensation Allowance (ACA) granted and paid to all officials and employees of the National Government Agencies (NGAs) including State Universities and Colleges (SUCs), Government-Owned and/or Controlled Corporations (GOCCs), Government Financial Institutions (GFIs) and Local Government Units (LGUs).

The above stated exclusions under (a) and (b) shall cover benefits paid or accrued during the year, provided that the total amount shall not exceed ninety thousand pesos (₱ 90,000), which may be increased through rules and regulations issued by the Secretary of Finance, upon recommendation of the Commissioner, after considering among others, the effect on the same of the inflation rate at the end of the taxable year.

(12) GSIS, SSS, Medicare and other contributions. – GSIS, SSS, Medicare and Pag-Ibig contributions, and union dues of individual employees.

(13) Compensation income of Minimum Wage Earners (MWEs) who work in the private sector and being paid the Statutory Minimum Wage (SMW), as fixed by Regional Tripartite Wage and Productivity Board (RTWPB)/National Wages and Productivity Commission (NWPC), applicable to the place where he/she is assigned, as well as the compensation of employees in the public sector who are paid not more than the SMW applicable to non-agricultural sector, as fixed by RTWPB/NWPC, applicable to the place where he/she is assigned.

‘Statutory Minimum Wage’ (SMW) shall refer to the rate fixed by the Regional Tripartite Wage and Productivity Board (RTWPB), as defined by the Bureau of Labor and Employment Statistics (BLES) of the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE). The RTWPB of each region shall determine the wage rates in the different regions based on established criteria and shall be the basis of exemption from income tax for this purpose.

The NWPC shall officially submit a Matrix of Wage Order by region, and any changes thereto, within ten (10) days after its effectivity to the Assistant Commissioner, Collection Service, for circularization in the BIR.

Aside from the SMW, the holiday pay, overtime pay, night shift differential pay, and hazard pay, earned by the aforementioned MWE shall likewise be covered by the above exemption. For purposes of these regulations, hazard pay shall mean the amount paid by the employer to MWEs who were actually assigned to danger or strife-torn areas, disease-infested places, or in distressed or isolated stations and camps, which expose them to great danger or contagion or peril to life. Any hazard paid to MWEs which does not satisfy the above criteria is deemed subject to income tax and consequently, withholding tax on the said hazard pay.

In case of hazardous employment, the employer shall indicate in the Alphabetical List of Employees, the MWEs who received the hazard pay, the period of employment, the amount of hazard pay, and the justification for such payment as certified by the concerned DOLE/allied agency, which certification is part of the attachment in the filing of the Annual Information Return (BIR Form 1604-C). In the case of employees under the public sector, the document to be attached is the Department of Budget Management (DBM) Circular related to such payment of hazard pay.

Additional compensation such as commissions, honoraria, fringe benefits, benefits in excess of the allowable statutory amount of ₱90,000.00, taxable allowances, and other taxable income given to an MWE by the same employer other than those which are expressly exempt from income tax shall be subject to withholding tax using the withholding tax table.

Likewise, MWEs receiving other income from other sources in addition to compensation income, such as income from other concurrent employers, from the conduct of trade, business, or practice of profession, except income subject to final tax, are subject to income tax only to the extent of income other than SMW, holiday pay, overtime pay, night shift differential pay, and hazard pay earned during the taxable year.

Any income subject to income tax may be subject to withholding tax; however, income exempt from income tax is consequently exempt from withholding tax. Further, income not subject to withholding tax does not necessarily mean that it is not subject to income tax.

Any reduction or diminution of wages for purposes of exemption from income tax shall constitute misrepresentation and therefore, shall result to the automatic disallowance of expense, i.e. compensation and benefits account, on the part of the employer. The offenders may be criminally prosecuted under existing laws.

(13) Compensation during the year not exceeding Two hundred fifty thousand pesos (₱250,000).

Illustration 4: Ms. Alona is employed in CSO Corporation. She received the SMW for 2018 in the total amount of ₱175,000, inclusive of the 13th month pay. In the same year, she also received overtime pay of ₱40,000 and night-shift differential of ₱25,000. She also received commission income from the same employer of ₱20,000, thus, total income received amounted to ₱260,000.

Computation:

The employer of Ms. Alona shall determine the nature of income payments. The amount to be subjected to income tax withholding shall be computed as follows -

Total Income received		₱ 260,000.00
Less: Income exempt from tax
Basic SMW	₱175,000.00
Overtime Pay	40,000.00
Night Shift Differential	25,000.00
Total Exempt Income as MWE		240,000.00
Taxable Income- Commission		₱ 20,000.00
Tax Due
On not over P250,000.00 (₱20,000.00 x 0%)		₱ 0.00

* Taxpayer's income of SMW, overtime pay, and night shift differential pay are expressly exempt from income tax under the law and consequently from withholding tax.

* Commission income from the same employer is taxable, however, under the graduated income tax rates since it is less than ₱250,000, there is no tax due.

Illustration 5: Ms. Cyril is employed in MAFD Corporation and is also a part-time real estate agent for a real estate broker. In addition to the SMW of ₱180,000 she received from her employer, she likewise received ₱75,000 as commissions from her real estate dealings for the year 2018.

Computation:

The amount subject to income tax and withholding tax shall be computed depending on the income tax regime selected by Ms. Cyril, since she is qualified to avail of such option (income from business/practice of profession did not exceed ₱3,000,000) and such option was reflected in the payee's sworn declaration given by the taxpayer to the payor/withholding tax agent-real estate broker, as follows:

1. Under the graduate income tax (IT) regime:

Total Income received	₱ 255,000.00
Less: Income exempt from income tax - SMW	180,000.00
Taxable Income- Commission	₱ 75,000.00
 Tax Due
On not over ₱250,000.00 (₱75,000.00 x 0%)	₱ 0.00

2. Under the 8% IT regime:

Total Income received	₱ 255,000.00
Less: Income exempt from income tax- SMW	180,000.00
Taxable Income- Commission	₱ 75,000.00
 Tax Due
₱75,000.00 x 8%	₱ 6,000.00

* Taxpayer's income as MWE does not exceed P250,000; hence, not subject to withholding tax.

* Since taxpayer is a mixed income earner and has received income from other sources in addition to her compensation income, the commission received during the taxable year is subject to income tax and consequently, to withholding tax.

* If Ms. Cyril selected the graduated income tax regime, her commission income is subject to income tax at 0% since it did not exceed P250,000 and she is also subject to business tax. However, if she selected the 8% income tax regime, she is liable for income tax amounting to P6,000, but this is in lieu of the graduated income tax and the percentage tax under Section 116 of the Tax Code, as amended."

SECTION 7. Section 2.79 of RR No. 2-98, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

“SECTION 2.79. Income Tax Collected at Source on Compensation Income.

(A) Requirement of Withholding. - Every employer must withhold from compensation paid an amount computed in accordance with these Regulations, whether the employee is a citizen or an alien, except non-resident alien not engaged in trade or business. Provided, that no withholding of tax shall be required on the SMW, including holiday pay, overtime pay, night shift differential and hazard pay of MWEs in the private/public sectors as defined in these Regulations. Provided, further, that an employee who receives additional compensation such as commissions, honoraria, fringe benefits, benefits in excess of the allowable statutory amount of ₱90,000.00, taxable allowances and other taxable income other than the SMW, holiday pay, overtime pay, hazard pay, and night shift differential pay, shall be taxable only on such additional compensation received.

(B) Computation of Withholding Tax on Compensation Income in General. The procedures prescribed below shall govern the computation of withholding tax on the taxable compensation income of the employees. Provided, however, that taxable fringe benefits received by employees other than rank and file, as defined in the Labor Code of the Philippines, as amended, shall be subject to Fringe Benefits Tax pursuant to Section 33 of the Tax Code, as amended.

1. Use of Withholding Tax Tables. – In general, every employer making payment of compensation shall deduct and withhold from such compensation a tax determined in accordance with the prescribed withholding tax table, Annex “D” for compensation paid from January 1, 2018 until December 31, 2022 (as published under RMC 1-2018 dated January 4, 2018) and Annex “E” for compensation paid starting January 1, 2023.

xxx      xxx      xxx

If the compensation is paid other than daily, weekly, semi-monthly or monthly, the tax to be withheld shall be computed as follows:

- (a) Annually – use the annualized computation referred to in Sec. 2.79 (B)(5)(b) of these regulations;
- (b) Quarterly and semiannually – divide the compensation by three (3) or six (6) respectively, to determine the average monthly compensation. Use the monthly withholding tax table to compute the tax, and the tax so computed shall be multiplied by three (3) or six (6) accordingly.

2. Components of Withholding Tax Table. -

a. Column 1 pertains to the following details:

- i. Payroll period
- ii. Compensation range
- iii. Prescribed withholding tax

b. Columns 2 to 7 show the tax due for each of the compensation range identified

3. Steps to determine the amount of tax to be withheld.

Step 1. Determine the total monetary and non-monetary compensation paid to an employee for the payroll period: monthly, semi-monthly, weekly or daily, as the case may be, excluding non-taxable benefits and mandatory contributions.

Classify taxable compensation into regular and supplementary compensation. Regular compensation includes basic salary, fixed allowances for representation, transportation and other allowances paid to an employee per payroll period. Supplementary compensation includes payments to an employee in addition to the regular compensation, such as commission, overtime pay, taxable retirement, taxable bonus, and other taxable benefits, with or without regard to a payroll period.

Representation and Transportation Allowances (RATA) granted to public officers and employees under the General Appropriations Act and the Personnel Economic Relief and Allowance (PERA) which essentially constitute reimbursement for expenses incurred in the performance of government personnel's official duties shall not be subject to income tax and consequently to withholding tax.

Step 2. Use the appropriate table in Annex "D" (for compensation paid from January 1, 2018 to December 31, 2022) or Annex "E" (for compensation paid from January 1, 2023 onwards) and select the applicable payroll period.

Step 3. Determine the compensation range of the employee by taking into account only the total amount of taxable regular compensation income and apply the applicable tax rates prescribed thereon.

Step 4. Compute the withholding tax due by adding the tax predetermined in the compensation range as indicated on the column used and the rate of tax on the excess of the total compensation over the minimum of the compensation range.

4. Sample Computations on the use of the Withholding Tax Tables.

The following are sample computations of withholding tax on compensation using the prescribed withholding tax tables:

Illustration 6: Ms. Joc, an employee of MCUD Inc., is receiving daily compensation in the amount of P2,500, net of mandatory contributions.

Computation:

By using the daily withholding tax table, the withholding tax beginning January 2018 is computed by referring to compensation range under column 4 which shows a predetermined tax of ₱356.16 on ₱2,192 plus 30% of the excess of Compensation Range (Minimum) amounting to ₱308 (₱2,500.00 – ₱2,192.00), which is ₱92.40. As such, the withholding tax to be withheld by the employer shall be ₱448.56.

Total taxable compensation	₱ 2,500.00
Less: Compensation Range (Minimum)	2,192.00
Excess	₱ 308.00

As such, the withholding tax to be withheld by the employer shall be ₱1,028.92.

Total taxable compensation	₱ 9,500.00
Less: Compensation Range (Minimum)	7,692.00
Excess	₱ 1,808.00

5. Use of Exceptional Computations

- (a) Cumulative Average Method. – If in respect of a particular employee, the regular compensation is exempt from withholding tax because the amount thereof is below the compensation level, but supplementary compensation is paid during the calendar year; or the supplementary compensation is equal to or more than the regular compensation to be paid; or the employee was newly hired and had a previous employer/s within the calendar year, other than the present employer doing this cumulative computation, the present employer shall determine the tax to be deducted and withheld in accordance with the cumulative average method provided hereunder:

Step 1. Add the amount of taxable regular and supplementary compensation to be paid to an employee for the payroll period subject of computation to the sum of the taxable regular and supplementary compensation since the beginning of the calendar year including the compensation paid by the previous employers within the same calendar year, if any;

Step 2. Divide the aggregate amount of compensation computed in step 1 by the number of payroll period to which the amount relates;

Step 3. Compute the tax to be deducted and withheld on the cumulative average compensation determined in Step No. (2) in accordance with the withholding tax table;

Step 4: Multiply the tax computed in Step No. (3) by the number of payroll period to which it relates;

Step 5. Determine the excess, if any, of the amount of tax computed in Step No. (4) over the total amount of tax already deducted and withheld from the beginning payroll period to the last payroll period, including that withheld by the previous employer/s within the calendar year, if any. The excess, as computed, shall be deducted and withheld from the compensation to be paid for the last payroll period of the current calendar year.

The cumulative average method, once applicable to a particular employee at any time during the calendar year, shall be the same method to be consistently used for the remaining payroll period/s of the same calendar year.

(b) Annualized withholding tax method. – (1) When the employer-employee relationship is terminated before end of the calendar year; and (2) when computing for the year-end adjustment, the employer shall determine the amount to be withheld from the compensation on the last month of employment or in December of the current calendar year in accordance with the following procedures:

Step 1. Determine the taxable regular and supplementary compensation paid to the employee for the entire calendar year.

Step 2. If the employee has previous employment/s within the year, add the amount of taxable regular and supplementary compensation paid to the employee by the present employer doing the annualized computation to the taxable compensation income received from previous employer/s during the calendar year.

- (a) When the employer-employee relationship is terminated before December – The taxable regular and supplementary compensation income shall be the amount paid since the beginning of the current calendar year to the termination of employment;
- (b) Year-end adjustment- The taxable regular and supplementary compensation income shall be the amount paid since the beginning of the current calendar year to December;
- (c) Taxable fringe benefits received by employees holding managerial or supervisory positions shall be subject to a final fringe benefit tax as prescribed in Section 2.57.1(G) hereof. Hence, the same shall not form part of the taxable supplementary compensation of managers and supervisors subject to tax using the withholding tax tables.

Step 3. Compute the amount of tax on the amount arrived in Step 2, in accordance with the applicable schedules, as follows:

a. For compensation income earned for taxable years 2018 to 2022:

RANGE OF TAXABLE INCOME		TAX DUE = a + (b x c)
OVER	NOT OVER	BASIC AMOUNT (a)	ADDITIONAL RATE (b)	OF EXCESS OVER (c)

8,000,000.00	-	2,202,500.00	35%	8,000,000.00

Step 4. (formerly Step 6) Determine the deficiency or excess, if any, of the tax computed in Step 3 over the cumulative withholding tax already deducted and withheld since the beginning of the current calendar year. The deficiency withholding tax (when the amount of tax computed in Step 3 is greater than the amount of cumulative tax already deducted and withheld or when no tax has been withheld from the beginning of the calendar year) shall be withheld from the last payment of compensation for the calendar year. If the deficiency withholding tax is more than the amount of the last compensation to be paid to an employee, the employer shall be liable to pay the amount of tax which cannot be withheld from the employee's last compensation for the year. The obligation of the employee to the employer arising from the advances made by the employer of the amount of the required tax is a matter of settlement between the employee and employer.

The excess withholding tax (when the amount of cumulative tax already deducted and withheld is greater than the tax computed in Step 3) shall be credited or refunded to the employee not later than January 25 of the following year. However, in case of termination of employment before December, the refund shall be given to the employee at the payment of the last compensation during the year. In return, the employer is entitled to deduct the amount refunded to the employee/s from the remittable amount of taxes withheld from compensation income for the current month in which the refund was made, and in the succeeding months thereafter until the amount refunded by the employer is fully repaid.

The annualized computation done for each employee shall be reflected by the employer at the alphabetical list attached to BIR Form No. 1604C.
